BILLS FOR REGULAR ADVERTISING PAYABLE QUARTERLY ON DEMAND.

Address SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky.

John D. Cruey has moved to Grassy, in Morgan county.

Mrs. Rilda Day is quite sick, and has been confined to her home since Sunday.

Miss Ellen McGuire, of St. Helens, is visiting her brother, F. McGuire, of this place.

Nothing equals Ayer's Sarsaparilla for purifying the blood, and as a spring medicine.

Miss Mollie Douglass, late music teacher at the Academy, left Sunday morning for Lexington.

Wanted—A few choice bacon hams at this office at 85c. a pound in cash, or 10c. a pound on subscription.

We learn that Alex Hargis will succeed to the vacancy in the State Senate caused by the death of his father.

We are in receipt of a letter from John Harper, of Georgetown, Texas, but our limited space this week compels us to omit it. For the same reason we leave out letters from West Liberty and Bear Pen.

Charley Smith, formerly of this place, who left here to teach school in Powell county, is now clerking for Morton & Congleton, at Bowen Station, in that county. Charley was here on Monday, and paid our office a pleasant call.

Wiley May and wife, late of Odessa, Mo., have rented Floyd Day's property in this place, and are keeping house. Mr. Day will shortly move to Clay City, where his duties as president of the bank and manager of the mill will require his presence at all times.

See the advertisement of the Hazel Green mill in this issue. This mill is now in charge of Potts & Wireman, two practical millers, and the work they are turning out renders entire satisfaction to all. They ground one lot of wheat last week that yielded 35 pounds and another lot which made 40 pounds to the bushel. Not another mill in the country can produce as well, and you can save money by giving it your patronage.

Breeders of this section should read Mr. Treacy's advertisement of Ashland Park Stallions for 1892, and arrange to give him some business. Mr. Treacy will give liberal terms to any farmer in this or the adjoining counties who may wish to breed to his horses, and if our farmers wish to raise colts that will bring big money they should breed to one of the "four of the finest." Write Mr. Treacy and arrange matters before it is too late. Remember that lost chance never comes again.

W. W. Swango, accompanied by his brother John, of Maytown, paid our office a pleasant call Monday. Wash came up to have some bills printed for his horse, George West, one of the best bred animals in Eastern Kentucky, his sire being Allie West, bred and owned by B. J. Treacy, of Lexington. Allie West produced some good ones, but died before any of his produce was developed. See bills for a full description of George West, and consult Mr. Swango at Maytown for particulars.

Do not fail to read the advertisement of the Clay City National Bank, which appears in this issue of our paper. Floyd Day, whom everybody in this section knows to be a business man of safe methods, is the President of the institution, and all business from this section will therefore be carefully attended to. Frank Russell, the cashier, is also well known to many of our citizens as an upright gentleman. Those who have money to deposit or loan cannot do better than to patronize this institution.

For Sale or Rent.

35 Acres of Land, 16 cleared; good 5 room dwelling, good barn and necessary out-buildings. Liberal terms. Call on or address, J. M. OLIVER, Frankfort, Ky.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

THE HAZEL GREEN ACADEMY HOME IN ASHES.

It Will Be Rebuilt Again at an Early Day—The Residence of Mr. Fletcher McGuire Catches on Fire, but the Flames are Promptly Extinguished.

Just after 1 o'clock on Friday evening smoke was seen to issue from the northern end of the Academy Home, in this place, and almost instantly the cry of fire was heard. Bells all over town were rang, and in a short while all the able-bodied citizens of the place were at the scene of the conflagration. It was apparent from the first that it would be useless to attempt to save the building, and a united effort was therefore made to save the furniture, clothing, etc., but so rapidly did the flames travel in their work of destruction, that even this was only partially successful. In the excitement incident to occasions of this kind, valuable property was left to the hungry flames and herculean efforts made to save articles of less value. This was especially so in one case. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, boarders in the Home, lost nearly everything they had. Mrs. Hughes was among the first to discover the fire, and hurriedly dragged her trunk out of the room onto an upper porch, but not withstanding her appeals for assistance, none was rendered, and her own and husband's clothing and valuables were totally destroyed. After the fire they recovered fifty or sixty dollars in gold which had melted and partially united, and this was all they saved.

The building, which was valued at $3,500, was laid in ruins, but an insurance of $2,000 will aid in rebuilding, which, we learn, will be commenced at once. The fire and its consequences was a sad blow to Hazel Green, but arrangements have been made by which all boarders attending school can be accommodated without additional outlay, and the fire will therefore in no way interfere with the school, which is now in a most prosperous condition.

The following is a list of losses:
D. G. Combs, $300; no insurance.
G. T. Hughes and wife lost all their clothing, trunks, etc., valued at $350 or $400.
Wm. H. Cord lost books, music, clothing, furniture, etc.; partly insured.
Miss Sallie Neal lost clothing and books.
Miss Maggie Elam, books and clothing.
Misses Cassie Rannels and Jennie May, clothing.
Miss Lillie Allen, clothing and $50.
John F. Jones, books and overcoat.
W. L. Hammonds, $22.
D. C. Oney, $20.
W. B. Allen, $14.
E. B. Pieratt, $7.
D. M. Keeton, $16.
Volney Nickell, $50.
T. J. Daniels, $25.
G. P. Oney, $20.
S. G. H. Cord, $26.50.
There are several others who lose smaller amounts.

ANOTHER FIRE.

On Wednesday morning the alarm of fire was again sounded, when the beautiful residence of Mr. Fletcher McGuire was discovered to be on fire. It was noticed, however, before gaining much headway, and by prompt efforts the flames were subdued. After the burning of the Academy Home Mr. McGuire's residence was rented as a dormitory for the students, and they had just moved in. A defective flue was the cause of the fire in both cases.

It is hardly necessary to discourse to the citizens of Hazel Green about the destruction that may visit us from the same cause at any time, and warn them to prepare for an emergency, for time and again we have appealed and appealed in vain for an organization to act in just such cases. In the case of the Academy Home fire one man could have easily extinguished the flames with a Bickox extinguisher. One of these useful fire fighters can be had for fifty to one hundred dollars, and it remains to be seen whether the town is able to buy one.

Willie Day, son of F. N. Day and wife, is clerking for his uncle, Frank Horton, of Comargo. Willie is an enterprising young man, and, as he likes merchandizing better than any pursuit he has heretofore engaged in, we would not be surprised some day to see him at the head of a large mercantile house.

Ben Bistaff, Presbyterian evangelist, entertained good congregations at the Presbyterian church in this place Sunday morning and evening, and dwelt at length upon the importance of shunning evil of every kind. Especially did he warn young men "to look not upon the wine that is red."
